SO MANY YOUNGSTERS

Have Croup

Hardly one child in a hundred escapes croup and in many cases it is dangerous. It always has the prospect of danger if not handled properly. We offer OUR CROUP REMEDY which can be taken internally or rubbed on the chest and which loosens the congestion and restriction and restores the breathing and takes away the pain. Mothers should have a package of this croup remedy handy. It is a fine insurance for baby's health.

Selling Surplus Poultry

(Experimental Farm Note.)

Many poultry raisers have difficulty in disposing of their surplus cockerels, pullets and old hens. This is not caused by lack of demand for these birds but because they so frequently marketed in such a condition as to be very unattractive to the consuming public.

The first requisite is a fleshy bird. Chickens running at large all summer without being liberally fed cannot be fat nor tender. If shut up (preferably in crates), and fed soft mash made up of ground oats and middlings mixed with skim milk for three weeks they will become both fat and tender.

Too often the bird is scalded and drawn before being marketed. This may be satisfactory for immediate use but not otherwise. The scalding leaves the skin in such a condition that it is subject to infection and after a short time of exposure the flesh begins to spoil. Removing the entrails has no same effect. The inside of the bird becomes exposed and the flesh soon spoils. The bird should be fasted for a day before killing and killed by bleeding through the mouth. It should then be dry plucked and drawn, and cooked as quickly as possible. A well developed chicken fattened and killed in this way is in demand by hotels, cafes and private families at any time of the year.

The marketing of hens is sometimes more difficult but the same general rules hold good. June is the best time to market them because eggs are cheap and meat is dear. Extending is not generally necessary but the fastening, killing and plucking is the same as for the younger birds.

The matter may be summed up negatively with a number of Don'ts—
Don't try to sell poor birds.
Don't take heads nor feet off.
Don't scald.
Don't draw.
Don't sell old hens except when eggs are cheapest.

Remember the cutting meeting on Wednesday Nov. 25.

Mrs. J. N. Beaubier, Grand Worthy Matron of the O. E. S., paid her official visit to Champion Chapter on Monday evening. There was a large attendance. Vulean, Carmangy and Barons being well represented. Mrs. Beaubier was presented with a handsomely bound ritual with her monogram upon it, the presentation being made by Mrs. Watkins, Associate Matron of the local chapter.

On Monday F. L. Bassett, of Huxley, succeeded Geo. Taylor in the dry business here. George is landmark here and his disappearance from the dry will be regarded with general regret. However, rheumatism does not go well with the job and he was forced to quit. His successor is an experienced dry man and will make a worthy successor.

The W. S. Gorsche sale on Tuesday drew one of the largest crowds seen at a sale in this district. The prices realized were exceptionally good all through and the splendid weather made the event a pleasant one for everybody. Mr. and Mrs. Gorsche leave shortly for the coast.

Clayton Craite has been confined to the house for the past five weeks with an attack of typhoid fever.

The Vancouver Sun complains about one phase of election returns. The polls close at the same hour at the Maritime provinces as at the coast, and at all other points throughout Canada. But the Maritime provinces are four hours ahead of the coast and three hours ahead of Alberta. The result of the vote in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick was known in Vancouver three hours before the close of the polls, and in Calgary two hours before the close of the poll. Following came the returns in Ontario, but for some reason nothing was learned of the results in Quebec until the polls had been closed in Calgary. The result in the east was chronicled through the west and used in an attempt to stampede the electors, with some result.—Albertan.

Without connecting the news received here with any attempt to influence the electors in any way everyone noticed the discrepancy in the returns broadcast. The result here was to fool the Meighen supporters into a belief that the country had gone almost solidly Conservative, while government and progressive sympathisers almost had to take to the woods. But oh, what a difference in the morning.

The "Poppy" dance, under the auspices of the L. D. S. church, held in McCullough's hall on Wednesday evening, November 11th, was a decided success in every way. The local orchestra supplied excellent music, there was a good attendance and the event was enjoyable in every way. Every guest was presented with a poppy, emblematic of the anniversary celebrated.

Miss Mabel Snyder has fallen heir to a fortune of half a million, left by an aunt who died recently in Indiana. Miss Snyder is widely known here, having spent the summer here in McCullough Bros. store, and many friends will congratulate her on her good fortune.

Don't forget the candy booth at the Bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 28. All kinds of candy, including Xmas candies. Articles for the fish pond are asked for, also donations for home produce table. The ladies in charge of tea room will welcome donations of cakes, cream and sandwiches for the Bazaar on Nov. 28th.

The Catholic Women's League will hold a bazaar in the old printing office, next door to telephone exchange, on December 19th. The offerings will include sewing, fancy work, poultry and home baking. Tea will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gill and family left for Victoria on Monday where Mrs. Gill and children will spend the winter. Mr. Gill returning home after seeing them settled. Many friends trust that Mrs. Gill will recover entirely in the different climate.

There will be a dance in McCullough's hall on Friday evening, November 27th. Anderson's four-piece orchestra will supply the music.

The second O. E. S. card party and dance will be held in Campbell's hall on Monday, Nov. 30th. Special efforts are being made to make this the best event of the kind ever given here and the date will undoubtedly be eagerly looked forward to.

The curling club invite tenders for caretaker of the rink for the present season. These will be received up to Nov. 24th and may be addressed to W. C. Hoskins, Sec'y protom.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Barker Nov. 26, at 2.30. All finished or unfinished articles for the bazaar please bring or send them to the meeting. All ladies cordially invited.

Cultivate the Christmas Spirit Now

The approach of the Christmas season brings to nearly every body thrills of pleasurable anticipation. It is a time of happiness and goodwill all round when old disappointments, and enmities, and selfishness are relegated to the background. Already people are busy planning and making gifts for relatives and friends, and it is to be hoped, with a thought for those who are less fortunately placed in life than themselves.

But there are certain groups in our population to whom the coming of Christmas means the hardest work and longest hours of labor during the whole year. Chief in this group are the employees of the post office throughout the country. Persons who season work to relatives and friends throughout the year, do so at Christmas time. Millions exchange Christmas cards and other forms of greeting. Parcels containing gifts pour into the post offices in their thousands. And the postal employees have to receive, sort and dispatch it all, and, in the cities and along rural routes, deliver it.

Most people time the mailing of their cards of greeting and gifts so they will arrive at their destination one or two days before Christmas, or possibly on Christmas Day itself. The postal employees have to handle all the business within the short space of time before Christmas, but no matter how tremendous an effort is made by the postal employees, they are not intended for Christmas are not received by those to whom they are addressed until Christmas is past and gone for another year.

A little more planning, and thoughtful, and cheerfulness in behalf of the post office staff, displayed by people generally, would greatly improve this condition. By mailing Christmas letters well in advance it may be that they will be received some days before Christmas, but, even so, it is there not a greater thrill to the arrival of the first gift than in the case of subsequent ones. And is not a gift received before Christmas a happier one than if it is delayed and not received until Christmas and its festivities are past?

Another group who find the week preceding Christmas a time of strain, resulting in rugged nerves and sharp tempers, are the clerks in stores. Many of them after the strenuous pre-Christmas rush find it necessary to retrace in bed instead of being able to enjoy and join with others in the joy of the day. Their lot can be made much easier by early shopping. Therefore, in our Christmas activities, give a thought to the comfort and happiness of the post office staff. In order to be in a position to mail your Christmas parcels early, it is necessary to shop early. This both these groups of workers will be helped to give you and the public generally better and more efficient service. Just a word in season—these Christmas unselfishness in action well in advance of Christmas Day.

You stand to gain by it in every way. Remember the old saying: "The early bird catches the worm." Well, early shopping means that you have the pick of the goods offered for sale, while the late shopper has to be content with what is left over and previously rejected by the more alert and discriminating shopper. Early shopping gives time for suitable selection of gifts best designed to meet the needs and taste in the home of the person for whom they are intended. It means getting them suitably wrapped with appropriate messages and neatly and properly packed. And an attractively tied or packed parcel adds much to the pleasure of the one who receives it. It conveys an impression of thought and real love on the part of the sender.

Finally, in adding, observe the instructions of the post office authorities. Put the postage stamps in the upper right hand corner; the address in the upper left hand corner; place your own name and address as sender in the lower left hand corner. If the parcel contains fragile articles, mark it "Fragile" with "Handle with Care" or "Fragile." If you are attaching any Christmas seals or stamps of greeting, place them on the back of the letter or parcel, but not on the same side with the address and postage stamps.

General observance of these little things will greatly expedite the handling of the Christmas rush of mail matter, insure the proper handling of your parcel, and by speeding up the whole service and lightening the labor of the postal employees result in what you yourself desire, the best possible service.

"Please, mum, the store's gone out."

"No, Nor, you don't mean the store. You mean the fire's out."

"Indeed, I don't. The funeral home just came out of the range."

New Types Of Aeroplanes

British Government Has One That Can Be Converted Into A Yacht

A French engineer M. de Monge has invented a new type of aeroplane, which can be driven by ordinary automobile engines. The plane has no tail, no fuselage, no wings, no rudder and no ailerons, but the wings are attached to the front wing by steel rods only, and the pilot and passenger sit in a kind of cockpit in the centre of the wings between the two main horizontal engines that are used. The plane is of course much lighter than the usual type, and it is said that it can be stored with fuel enough for a flight of nearly 2,000 miles. The engine burn only a gallon of gasoline for every thirty miles of flight, and drive the plane easily at a hundred miles an hour. The British Government has built another experimental aeroplane which has light sails and sails in addition to its spiral equipment. When it has to come down into waiting the sails can be spread and the plane converted into a sail little yacht. The plane is all metal, and a German engineer, Henschel by name, is said to have designed it—Youth's Companion.

No Trouble To Make Payment

Danish Settlers Pay $2,000 On Purchase Price of Farm

"You want us to make a payment on the farm?"

"Yes, that is the usual way of handling land deals of this kind," said the smiling land agent.

"All right," he'll give you some now," and without any more ado the purchaser reached among the matches and drew out tickets in his vest pocket and brought out two little wads of paper which he laid on the desk.

These little wads of paper were one thousand dollar bills.

This little scene took place in the office of the Western Colonization Company in Saskatoon. The house, and dollar bills were sold over to Danish settlers who were brought out to this country to take up land, and who purchased a section two miles square from Saskatoon.

"The agent was Alex. Postner, a former Danish immigrant."

PAUL BEFORE FELIX

Golden Text: Herein I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offence toward God and men at all ways. Acts 24:16.

Lesson: Acts 23:1-24:27.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 36:1-17.

The Text Explained and Illumined

The Case Against Paul Presented by Tertullus, verses 1-9.—See The Historical Background. Lystra had chosen Paul's accusers to appear against him before Felix. Within five days the high priest, Annas, with a deputation from the Sanhedrin arrived in Caesarea. Paul was summoned for trial. Tertullus, the advocate whom the Jews had engaged, presented their case against him. After fulsome words of flattery for the emperor, Tertullus accused Paul of being a disturbing element in the law of Moses; and defiling the temple—an offence against both the law of Moses and the Roman law, since the latter protected the Jews in their worship. When Tertullus concluded his case, the deputation of Jews emphatically declared that he had said.

"We all abhor such a man, who is so in so far from us, and then we call it by another name." (John A. Shedd).

Radium Clock

Run Indefinitely

The Nearest Approach to Perpetual Motion Say Scientists

Scientists are approaching the long sought goal, and while many ingenious devices have resulted from efforts along this line, all have failed to prove practical. But recently there has been invented a device which, while not a perpetual, is called a "clock," which actually declares about its own indefinitely. This is known as the "radium clock." As its name suggests, the motive force of the radium clock is atomic energy.

There is no poisonous ingredient in radium, and it can be used without danger or injury.

Got Radium Instead Of Radio Parts

Woman Accepted $25,000 Package Thinking It Was Her Order!

Fifty thousand dollars worth of radium went astray because the King's County Hospital, New York, hired a new ambulance driver just when Charles L. Feldman, of Brooklyn, expected a package of radio parts from a source. The similarity of the words radium and radium caused all the trouble.

Mr. Feldman's house is the home, and radium hospital of Dr. Chester Ford Duray. Dr. Duray had used his radium at the hospital, and was to be returned, according to custom, under guard in an ambulance.

The driver supposed Dr. Duray lived next door to his hospital, and left the package there. When Dr. Duray arrived home he found the package was gone. The radium was delivered.

Six hours later, the driver, off duty, was found and explained Mrs. Feldman had taken the package from the hospital and it contained radio parts. She had not opened it.

Nation-wide Fame.—There is scarcely a corner of this great Dominion where the merits of Dr. Thomas' Ecodic are not well known and proved. It is one of the world's most efficient remedies for sore throat, lung, and many other ailments arising from inflammation. Rubbed on the skin its healing power is readily absorbed, and it can be used internally.

Report Good Booklets Run

Reports received by the department of Marine and Fisheries are to the effect that a good run of sockeye salmon occurred last year for the first time since 1910, in the Stuart Lake district at the headwaters of the Fraser River, B. C.

The advance of sockeye salmon is the more important spawning area of the river during the past 16 years is due, according to the department, to the rock slide which occurred in Heils Gate Canyon in the lower Fraser in 1912. This slide completely blocked the river to the ascent of salmon.

THURSDAY, NOV. 10, 1925

Shipments of cattle to the United Kingdom continue to maintain the high level of the past few weeks. During the week ended Oct. 29, 2,592 cattle were exported, bringing the total for 1925 to date to 87,797 head, as compared with 97,073 for the corresponding period of 1924 and 18,540 in 1923.

Sir John Russell, lecturing in the Old Country on "Canada," has been telling this story of the Prince of Wales. When the Prince was visiting a small town in this country, where a civic welcome had been arranged, a drunken man staggered up to him and said thickly, "I am first cousin to the Archbishop of York." No one knew quite who he was, but the Prince relieved matters by quietly replying, "All right, old fellow, I won't tell him."—Free Press.

The strike of seamen in British ports has had the effect of increasing orders for approximately 20,000 tons of newprint to British Columbia mills. This would not have been possible but for the Canadian-Australia treaty which went into effect on Oct. 1, giving Canadian newprint access to the Australian market duty free, the same as the British product. Filling of this order will represent the first large shipment of this commodity by Canada to Australia. Up to a month ago Great Britain and the Baltic countries had been getting the bulk of the Australia newprint business in spite of the long water haul.

The greatest triumph yet scored by Alberta creamery butter in competition was recorded recently, when it was announced from London, England, that an exhibit of Alberta creamery butter, salted, made in the plant of the P. Burns Company at Edmonton, and won first prize and gold medal in the colonial section of the London dairy show, the largest and the largest shows of its kind in the world. This means that this exhibit from Alberta stood ahead of all other exhibits from other parts of the British Empire, not including Britain itself. Two other exhibits from Alberta were given high commendation in the show, while the first prize in the unsalted butter section went to the Cooperative Creameries of Regina. In the colonial section of the show, Canada won four out of the six prizes offered for Empire-wide competition, and Western Canadian creamery butter is recognized in the most discriminating market in the world as the highest quality of butter produced in any of the British Dominions.

Care of Tires in Winter

If motorist intends putting his car away for the winter some thought should be given to the tires and tubes. To merely drive the car into a garage and leave it standing on the tires is neither satisfactory nor profitable.

When the car is left standing on the inflated tires all winter, the strain is the one spot of the tire all the time. Furthermore, the tire is flattened out at that point, and when the motorist comes to use his car in the spring he finds considerable uneven running of the car due to these flat spots. These spots are weakened and the danger is drawn from the ground, and as they are made from rubber and cotton it is only common sense to assume that the cotton or fabric is weakened. In a very short time a blowout takes place at this weakened part and the motorist begins to lose the manufacturer to pieces.

Tires are like any other article which is manufactured from perishable materials, and if a little care will increase the mileage to be obtained from a tire, then it is poor economy not to give a little time to this important matter.

If it is the intention to store the car without removing the tires, they should be deflated and the car jacked up so that the tires will be off the ground.

To do the job properly the tires should be removed from the car and dismounted from the rims. They should then be stored in a dark place at a moderate temperature, and should be free from grease and oil. The tubes should be thoroughly inflated by taking out the valve in the sides, then by rolling them and holding the finger over the valve seat the valve inside can be replaced so that there is no air in the tube, in which case it lies perfectly flat and can be folded similar to the manner in which a tube is when it is first purchased. Many people have found it advisable to wrap the tubes in brown paper for the purpose of additional protection from light or other injurious substances.

During the course of a season's running the rims usually become rusty. Rust is one of the worst enemies of tires. It will eat its way into the bead of the tire, causing rim-cutting and blowouts. Every year there are hundreds of tires ruined in this way. The rims should be scraped and buffed by a repair-man. If this is not possible, a stiff wire brush will remove the rust. The rims should then be painted with aluminum paint so that they will be ready for painting. In addition to this, it is much easier to change a tire in case of trouble when the rims are cleaned and painted.

Many tire dealers undertake to do the whole job of removing the tires and tubes and painting the rims for a nominal charge. Dealers can make a little extra profit by going after business of this kind.

An Ounce of Prevention

(By Dr. C. M. Hicks) Medical Director, Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

All over the world a new type of hospital is being built—the psychopathic hospital, where people who have mental troubles are studied and treated.

The very words, psychopathic hospital, indicate the new theories of medical experts—that mental trouble may be studied and successfully treated. A psychopathic hospital is also an aid to prevention. Prevention of the bad mental habits that frequently lead to insanity is part of the field of the science of mental hygiene.

The best time to prevent trouble which in later years develop into forms of insanity, is in the very earliest years of childhood. Good habits of thinking are as easily formed as bad ones. Discipline, self control, courage, affection and loyalty, the strength of character and the quality of personality that make for contentment and a happy useful life can be developed in children by curbing the bad and encouraging the good by personal example and precept. As in everything else, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Curlers Were Scarce

A meeting of the curling club on Tuesday night was well largely attended, and very little business was done, the present officers continuing in office until Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, when another meeting will be held in W. C. Hoskins' store and it is hoped there will be a representative attendance. It was decided to undertake the operation of the rink again this season on similar conditions to last year with the exception that no deficit is to be met by the members. No action was taken in other matters discussed pending the next meeting.

Just a few years ago an automobile was a marvellous machine. We'd go miles to look one over. The idle rich even considered it a luxury.

Wide Phone Service

Long Distance Service To Alberta Has Been Made Continuous

With due ceremony, the inauguration of the continent-wide telephone service from Alberta was celebrated recently, when Governor Hest of Alberta conversed over the long distance telephone with state officials in the states of Montana, Colorado and Arizona, and with Chief Justice Anglin at Ottawa, Ontario. The inauguration of this service, by which telephone subscribers will be able to converse with any point in the Eastern and Western Canada and on the coast, was made possible through the co-operation of the Mountain States Telephone Company with the Alberta Government. Repeaters have been installed at Lethbridge, Calgary and Medicine Hat, and copper circuits set up from Lethbridge to the boundary of Montana, linking up with copper circuits extended north from Shelby, Montana. This has made possible the connection with the transcontinental system in the States.

In connection with the historical work taken by the Alberta Government, it is interesting to note that long distance service in the province has grown from 1,000 to 2,500,000 calls in the past ten years, and that in that time the revenue from long distance service has grown from $25,000 per annum to over $1,000,000 per annum.

The first commercial call over the new system was taken from Edmonton, when a resident of Edmonton conversed with a friend in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Toronto Doctor Announces New Serum For High Blood Pressure

A serum which may reduce the morbidity of high blood pressure was described by Dr. P. J. G. Starr, of Toronto, Canada, in a paper presented before the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, Philadelphia, Nov. 10.

Dr. Starr said that William J. McDonald had been working on the serum in the research laboratories of the University of Toronto for some time, but that it had not yet reached a point to permit a detailed description or an optimistic statement of its probable efficiency. He said the serum was a liver extract. High blood pressure, he explained, usually was due to hardening of the arteries, which is caused by an inflammation, possibly of germ origin.

New Colonization Plan

Community Move of British Settlers to Canada Is Proposed

While the department of immigration is working with the overseas settlement board on a full cooperative plan for the purpose of increasing immigration to Canada from the United Kingdom, a plan was made at the department of any person knowledge or official connection with a new scheme of colonization, reported from London, calling for the migration of 10,000 families to the Dominion within a period of five years.

These families, according to the cable report, were to be settled on Canadian farms in communities, and not in colonies.

Surgeons Revert To Old Practice

Doctor at Johns Hopkins College Tells How Injections Purify Blood

Modern surgeons have partially reverted to a practice of the Dark Ages, when blood letting and leeches were considered the most efficacious of remedies.

The medical wards of some hospitals have the blood stream carried all diseases. When a man in those days had a fever, a cold, or affliction of any sort, a "leech" was called in, and the patient was bled at once.

But, although modern science has returned in part to this practice it is reaching also that the blood stream can be purified with powerful injections—known as diathermies.

All this was brought out by Dr. Hugh M. Young, of Johns Hopkins Medical College, in explaining the work undertaken by the American College of Surgeons in the formation of a committee on antiseptics, of which Dr. Young is chairman, to gather material for a vast symposium on modern antiseptic surgery.

This work is undertaken as a memorial to Lister, the hundredth anniversary of whose birth will be celebrated April 15, 1927. Lister, working on Pasteur's theory of the germ origin of infection, by his antiseptic injections laid the foundation for modern surgery.

Circles Globe In Small Boat

Library Navigator Travels 38,000 Miles In Homemade Craft

Circumnavigation of the globe in a six-foot sail boat was accomplished by Harry Pligden, 31 year old photographer, known to many as the "library navigator." He made port from San Pedro, Cal., after travelling 35,000 miles in his homemade cockle shell craft, the Islander, since he set sail from San Pedro, November 18, 1921.

The Islander, a converted sea tug, was built for bad weather. Leaving San Pedro, he went to the Marquesas Islands in the South Sea to Tonga, Samoa, and the Indian Ocean to Mauritius and southwest to Cape Town. There he made St. Helena and crossed the Atlantic to Panama. He left the canoe Nov. 18, 1921.

Pligden was dubbed the "library navigator" because of the unusual manner in which he obtained sailing knowledge. With books from a branch library here, he spent what his colleagues, the "library navigators," called a "library" in the Islander in studying navigation. All his information about sailing was acquired in this way.

Trying To Make Easter Fixed Date

Second Sunday In April Each Year Being Considered

It remains only for the international conference to put into effect in 1928 the fixing of the second Sunday in April as Easter Sunday everywhere.

According to Moses B. Colver, director of the International Fixed Calendar in Toronto, in conference with his colleagues, the "library navigators," called a "library" in the Islander in studying navigation. All his information about sailing was acquired in this way.

While the change in regard to Easter Sunday and its contingent movable festivals affects only the Christians, Mr. Colver regards it as a step in the eventual adoption by the whole world of the fixed calendar idea.

One Ticket For Fourteen

Mother Had Proof That Thirteen Boys Were All Under Five Years Old

An incident on a Burlington train near Lowell, Mass., the other day, found Mrs. Frank Scott had only one ticket for her husband and thirteen children.

The children occupied five double seats. "Are there all you children, or is it a planet?" asked the conductor. They were all the children of Mrs. Scott and she had the family Bible in her suitcase to prove it.

The Scotts have been married less than ten years and have thirteen children. There are five sets of twins. The thirteen above mentioned were all under five and could ride free.

They were being taken by their mother on a visit to relatives in Canada.

Keep Teeth Commandment

One Reason Why Canada And U. S. Live Peaceably

Canadian officials have issued figures on the automobile tourist influx into the Dominion during the past summer, setting forth that 2,000,000 automobiles crossed the line, carrying 9,800,000 travelers. The astonishing fact is that these 9,800,000 strangers, chiefly from "the States," equaled in number the total population of Canada.

That is, slighting Americans dangerously the population of our northern neighbor. The migration was made without difficulty. The visitors spoke the same language, ate the same food, wore the border United States currency was accepted without question.

A common language has much to do with the ease with which countries are made at home. The chief reason for this freedom of travel is that Canada and the United States are free from linguistic rivalry. Politically, Canada and America keep the Tenth Commandment. If European countries would not "covet thy neighbor's goods" many nation's frontiers would go broke.—San Francisco Bulletin.

High Standard of Living

Conditions of Living in United States Highest in History Says Mosser

Material conditions of living for the people of the United States during the last year have been the "highest in all history," Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared in an economic review made public as part of the annual report of the commerce department.

Factors listed by the secretary as contributing to this condition included a practically complete absence of unemployment, high wages in different railroad operations, an equitable balance of prices as among the greater producing groups of the population, and a gradual return to stable currency and normal business operations among the nations abroad.

Novelty in Radio Reception

According to recent reports, the city of Rome offered the newest novelty in radio reception, in the form of "radio" in the radio radio listening stations. For the equivalent of one penny, a pair of phones are placed on the head of the listener and he is allowed to hear one selection. There is but one master receiver and many sets of phones, but the listener is not in contact with the operator's house.

Broadcasting Dull Calls

Oakland, Calif.—A device for broadcasting dull calls has been invented by A. O'Hara, president of the Valley Radio Club. Radio apparatus has been installed in the club's premises, and with the opening of the hearing season in October, an "airing" of "dull" calls will be received among the clubbers.

Useless to Attempt Trip Otherwise Says Veteran Arctic Navigator

Aircraft can be successfully utilized in Polar exploration, provided the flights are attempted from a large base in Alaska, according to Captain Bob Bartlett, veteran Arctic navigator, who was one of the last Commander Peary's party when he made his dash to the Pole in 1909.

"It is useless to attempt to cross the vast Arctic regions adjacent to the Pole, with only a few months preparation and with small planes," said Bartlett. "There is one place where these flights can be started, and that is off the Alaskan coast and in the Polar Basin."

Chest of Drawers In Mayfair Yields $75,000 in Stamps

A collection of postage stamps hidden in an old bureau in a Mayfair home in London sixty years ago has been accidentally discovered, and found worth $75,000. The original value was $100,000, but for a few years it had been reduced to $10,000.

The stamps were never before seen by collectors. The man who owned them was a two sheets of halfpenny Ceylon stamps, issued in 1858—the only sheets of these stamps existing. The stratigrapher of the owner's husband collected the stamps when he was young. Collectors from many parts of the world will attend the sale of the collection.
